

HOME NIGHT SEEN AT THE THIRD WARD MEETING

The most interesting and successful Mutual Improvement association conference ever held in the North Weber stake, was concluded yesterday evening with a general meeting in the Third ward chapel. It began on Saturday night with the starting of a model "home night" program and a model "ward dance" in the Weber academy social hall and included business sessions held yesterday afternoon and evening. The members of the general boards, who were present at all sessions, were Dr. George H. Brimhall, president of the Brigham Young university at Provo, and Mrs. Jane Anderson of Salt Lake City. Mrs. Anderson is the wife of E. H. Anderson and formerly lived in the Ogden Fourth ward.

While the usual interest was manifested in the meetings held yesterday, that in the social demonstrations conducted Saturday night, being the first given in the county since they were suggested by the general board, predominated. The "home night" demonstration was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Parker and three children, assisted by Miss Blackham, Isabelle and Wilford Beveridge, their program consisting of story-telling by Mrs. Parker and folk dancing, recitations and musical numbers by the young people, under the direction of Mr. Parker. In every way, the demonstration was a fine success and the large audience, fearing to break the spell of interest while it was being carried out, waited until the final family prayer was said and then rewarded the augmented family with enthusiastic applause.

In the model "ward dance," the following participated:

Bishop and Mrs. Myron B. Richardson, Mrs. Elizabeth McFarland and Mrs. Caroline Wiggins, chaperons; Francis Wiggins, floor-manager; the Misses Norine Moyes, Lillian Green, Margaret Shipley, Esther Shurtliff, Marie Slade, Dorothy Shaw, Myrtle Hales, Ruby Witherspoon, Ethel Sisman and Mabel Young, and Messrs. A. A. Shaw and Carl Torgeson (strangers in the ward), Ray Wilk, Wilford Shurtliff, Joseph Dels, Clarence Wright and Alonzo West, dancers. The waltz, one-step, Virginia Reel and the three-step, with ballroom etiquette, were properly demonstrated in an inclosed space representing a ward hall and created an excellent impression on the visitors and members of the stake.

Following this demonstration, the remainder of the evening was passed in a general re-organized dancing party by the three hundred or more people present. Music was furnished by the Ridges orchestra, refreshments were served and a most enjoyable time was had. The social closed at 11 o'clock, the time desired for all ward parties to close.

The meetings of yesterday morning and afternoon were occupied with discussions of the plans for the coming season's work, including the schedule of meetings, courses of study, special activity night, contest work, the reading course, scout work and social work, by the general board members, stake board members and ward officers and teachers. Many excellent ideas were developed and marked enthusiasm was shown.

At the closing meeting in the evening, addresses were made by Mrs. Anderson and Dr. Brimhall, a solo was sung by Isabelle Beveridge and choral numbers were given by the Third ward Beehive girls and boy scouts.

Both board members congratulated the stake workers on the progress that was being made toward the uplifting of the young people in an educational and social way through their efforts and both stated that the demonstration of Saturday evening had been the most ideal and enjoyable they had ever seen.

Mrs. Anderson spoke on the subject, "The Joy of Living the Gospel," telling of the great happiness that was found in serving others, according to its teachings.

Dr. Brimhall stated that he had been instructed, entertained and made happy by the convention and had found in the North Weber stake a realization of many of his ideals in mutual improvement work. He then took up the subject of "The Gospel in M. I. Work," giving first a brief history of the organization of the two associations by Brigham Young and explaining their purpose. The work, he said, should not be considered the development of a great social system by the efforts of men, but the spirit of the gospel should be kept in it, else its purpose would fail.

As M. I. work included the social, mental, moral and physical development of the young people along proper lines, he continued, through their associations in the ballroom, at parties, at boy scout and Beehive girl meetings, in class and contest work and in the "home night" programs, the spirit of the gospel must be given a prominent place in all and through it the purposes of the Mutual Improvement associations would be brought to pass.

John V. Bluth of the stake presidency made the closing talk, expressing appreciation of the work being done by the workers in the two associations. Benediction was pronounced by Bishop M. B. Richardson.

MENU CARDS ON THE D. & R. G. ROAD

That Ogden and its attractions had been called to the attention of thousands of tourists through the medium of the menu cards used on the Denver & Rio Grande line, was a statement made by General Agent Frank Fouts. Copies of the menu card have just been received by Mr. Fouts and in their interior makeup a new departure is made. Instead of using all of the space for the "lineup" of liquid and solid refreshments as is ordinarily the case, the middle of the card, which is a folder, is utilized in drawing the attention of the travelers, while waiting for their order to be filled, to the specially interesting stopover points on the railroad.

Among the others, Ogden is referred to as the western terminus of the Denver & Rio Grande and a place from which many interesting side trips can be taken into the surrounding country.

SONG SERVICE AT CONGREGATIONAL

A large congregation attended the service at the Congregational church last night and in addition to receiving many excellent lessons from the sermon of Rev. F. G. Brainerd, were given a fine musical treat. The new choir of 40 voices again acquitted itself well in the singing of several beautiful sacred numbers of classical composition. Among them was Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise," in which the duet, "I Waited for the Lord," was sung by Miss Rosamond Laird and Mrs. W. A. Roberts. To the choir numbers, Miss Rosalie Holberg and H. P. Aldridge added a solo each. The former sang "He Leadeth Me" (Ashford), and the latter "Open Ye

The Policy of One Price to All has met with emphatic approval. It is a satisfaction to know that the price one pays is the only price a store makes.

Lacy New Waists From Paris

Parisian modistes are responsible for the wonderful creations which are here in fall waists—and as usual we must admit the mastery of Paris.

Crepe de Chines are in abundance, as they were this spring and summer—there is, perhaps a bit more of the laciness in the making—some important changes in the sleeves and collars—some of the fabrics this fall are embroidered and many patterns are being used.

The assortments are complete, however, and we assure all visitors of seeing the best to be offered.

Suit Styles From the Battlefields

It is a noticeable fact that all great military operations of the past have had their effect upon the styles of ladies' garments.

In this present season there is a very decided tendency to follow the fashion of the soldier. Russia, especially, is largely represented—with the high collar—the long skirt and the heavy fur trimmings. Strange, too, how correct all of these changing fashions seem to be once they become popular.

Probably it is because of the radical changes in the fall suit styles—but for some reason they have suddenly become very popular. Probably because the selections this year are so excellent—at any rate suits are having a very marked call.

A Season of Coats Is This

Frudent women who have modest sums to spend for clothing always welcome a season when coats are in vogue. Frequently the new coat covers a suit or undergarment of a former season—the effect is always smart. The coat gives all the grace and style of the newer suit and usually costs less to buy—frequently, too, the coat answers where two newer garments could be used.

Every express brings new wonders in ladies' coats—almost we have not been able to have them here fast enough. We suggest, however, that when you plan your shopping expeditions, you have a look at the later arrivals.

As a possibility or believing it is so he is more pessimistic than optimistic. He takes the dark view of all things and fails to get his full measure of pleasure out of life. Because of this attitude he has failed to add anything to his life, being of a negative nature he has subtracted instead of adding. He has failed to find happiness because happiness comes from positiveness, never from negativeness.

"Then the daybreak of belief comes when he has the awakening vision, he really begins to live. There is a great change in him, and the change comes from within; the positive is overcoming the negative side of him, he begins to accept things as others say they are, he has ceased to be a 'doubting Thomas,' and the transformation of his outward life is noticeable.

"He has accomplished these things by putting away fear by coming to his own conclusions, by thinking for himself, by putting away indifference, lack of interest in his spiritual welfare has kept him in the dark.

"After he has succeeded in overcoming fear and indifference and he has begun to think for himself, then he should do some testing for himself, that he may properly decide which course he should pursue."

A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE

Short Stories of Many New Things Fall Has Sent

WE WANT to give you to day a few short, newsy stories of new things the Fall Season has brought to the store. This is a season of new things—garments of a past season soon begin to lose their attractiveness when the first chill of September comes.

Style Value will be the keynote after today. Tomorrow, perhaps today, you'll see the first of the Fall styles indications in many garments worn by women on Ogden streets in Ogden homes.

We confidently believe this store has planned better than ever before to serve you—keener buying has been exacted of our department heads—more careful studying of style tendencies. The service we offer you this Fall Season is, we believe, as good as that of any store in America.

Enter the New Gypsy Boot

Without doubt the most favored boot among the new models of this fall is the Gypsy Boot. Because of its neat, plain lines the foot looks smaller—and this is an advantage as the skirt is to be worn moderately short.

Wright & Peters are the makers of our handsomest footery this fall—and to those who know this will be good news, for these wonderful makers are perhaps without peers in America.

In this, our best fall display of shoes, you will see shoes of many colors—tops a bit higher than usual. We seek most of them of the button styles with the inspection of all discriminating women of this splendid showing of the season's best boots.

Quaker Styles Have Come Again

Considering the low cost—there is probably no article of a woman's apparel which shows so smartly and so effectively as the late styles of neckdress. The Quaker collars are in very high favor—and these may be had in sets for the cuff as well as collars. They may be very inexpensive or quite elaborate, as you wish, but in any case they set off a used waist—or a new waist as no other accessory will.

See also, while in this department, the new fussy collars which are quite more elaborate than the others and intended for dressy occasions. The best fall models are all ready for your inspection.

Furs Predominate in Trimmings

No matter what fashion magazine you study—this statement will be borne out "Furs predominate in Trimmings." Furs will be used for decoration at the neck of new suits and gowns—at the sleeves and even at the skirt. Perhaps some furs will be used in millinery trimmings.

Our buyer's foresight—or perhaps the study of the best style tendencies is approved in the stock of trimmings which is ready for you today. All that is best is now ready—the assortments had to be gleaned from a good many various sources, but you may come here with perfect confidence of finding that trimming which will be correct. Trimmings are now displayed in the aisle formerly given over to the display of embroideries.

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—The thirty-seventh annual tournament for the intercollegiate lawn tennis championship of the United States in singles and doubles opened today on the courts of the Merion Cricket club at Haverford. Weather conditions were perfect.

Harvard, Yale, Princeton, University of Pennsylvania, Cornell, Amherst, Haverford, Dartmouth and Williams are members of the intercollegiate association and all have sent representatives to the tournament.

COLLEGES CONTEST FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The intercollegiate championship in singles last year was won by George M. Church of Princeton, who defeated R. Norris Williams of Harvard. Church has been graduated from Princeton, and Williams again looms up as a possible winner of the title. The intercollegiate doubles championship is held by Williams and Richard Harter of Harvard.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 13.—Police Captain C. E. Bates, Thomas Hamersley, a police detective, and Joseph Rotose, a laborer, are undergoing treatment here today for injuries and wounds received last night in a riot precipitated by mill hands at all the races.

Net Fissues for Evening Gowns

As far as Ogden is concerned at least, this promises to be a very busy social season. When the society ladies of Ogden are ready to plan their evening gowns—and many of them are already planning—they will find here an assortment of garnishments for evening gowns which positively cannot be excelled in the state.

Fissue nets and opalescent nets, you find, will have a great vogue. These resplendent sheer fabrics worn over gowns or self or contrasting colors are to be among the favorites. These are now displayed for easy inspection in the glass cases of the former embroidery section.

In the Men's Salon New Modes Appear

It is said that many merchant tailors take their best styles from the clothing made by Hart, Schaffner & Marx—of which line of clothing this store is the exclusive representative of Ogden.

The fall stocks from these good makers are now ready in the display cases of the Men's store—ready for your "try-on." All of the newer fabrics—all of the new lines are ready and in fact the past week has brought many early buyers.

In men's clothing, as in ladies' outer apparel, there is a satisfaction in wearing the newest things early—we especially invite the men who think they are hard to fit to let us disprove that wrong idea.

The fall hats for men, Stetsons, Electric Brand and Essex Brands are all ready—comprising all of the most popular shapes and colors for fall.

Paris Sends Some Wonderful Hats

Every day in the ladies' millinery department, tables are being crowded with newer millinery. The parent house which supplies this great department with its exclusive merchandise, import from Paris at considerable expense, models which are copied and sent to us. Of these more exclusive models there is perhaps only one of each sent to each city so that exclusive Parisian models are shown here at prices very much less than the originals.

Today, tomorrow, every day during the season, great boxes of express shipments are arriving and the smartest styles shown anywhere in America may be seen here.

Smart street hats and elaborate picture hats of very late designing are ready for you now.

Linnton, a suburb. Rotose was shot through the abdomen and the police officers were hurt in their efforts to subdue the rioters.

According to the police, the men had been drinking and an anti-American demonstration resulted.

FOUR RACES ON GRAND CIRCUIT

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Heavy rains during the night made the state fair track heavy for the opening of the grand circuit races here today. Four races are on the card, the first on a 2:07 class pacing, purse $1,000; 2:14 class pacing, purse $1,000; 2:19 class trotting, $1,200, and the Messina Springs sweepstakes for a purse of $600, added to all entrance money. Large fields are entered in all the races.

Send Orders by Mail
The Mail Order Department is already to give splendid service this fall. Filling orders the day received, guaranteeing satisfaction with each purchase.

Lovely New Silks Are on Display

Look for a moment at a display of exclusive silks in one of the windows just south of the Washington entrance—here you will see the newest novelty from the silk manufacturer's loom—These wide stripes and handsome plaids are in such demand right now that makers have but scant stocks to offer. Thanks to the splendid planning of this department, stocks here are quite complete.

A woman of fashion who had been studying fashions in California, and who learned we were to have these novelties, bought one of the most exclusive novelties even before it had arrived in the store—other silk novelties are meeting with favorable welcome, as are also the newer fabrics for gowns and suits in the woollens.

Needle Workers Are Soon Busy

Needleworkers who plan in advance are busy now—and considering that Christmas is only around the corner—this new assortment of art goods is meeting with enthusiastic welcome.

The Artimo packages are being bought largely—these clever packages contain dainty garments for children which are all made but the embroidering—also garments for women in a great variety of pieces.

The styles are always up to the moment—the materials of good quality and the packages give detailed information for the finishing. There are also many new centers, scarfs, pillows, etc., in which sample have been made up to give the worker ideas.

During the present month an instructor will be in this department to teach in the art of crocheting—announcement of her coming will be made later.

Monday Brings "Eau de Ferndell"

Monday—for the first time in Ogden—Eau de Ferndell will be exhibited and sold. Most of you have already learned of this famous hair aid. The demonstration will be conducted in the Drug Department. Following are some of the claims the make claims for his product—and he instructs us to say that if his claims are not right we are to return the purchase price. Treatments at home can be arranged when wanted.
